November Update: Resource Consents granted for the Proposed Pahiatua Wind Farm

Kia ora,

Following our last update of March 2025, in which we stated that the proposed Pahiatua Wind Farm had been accepted into the Fast-track consent pathway, we would now like to inform you that our resource consents have been granted, subject to conditions. The EPA Panel has authorised 8 out of the 11 proposed turbines.

We acknowledge the Expert Consenting Panel's decision to grant resource consents for the Pahiatua Wind Farm project and thank all the people who have made a submission and the Panel for their diligent review and decision-making process. We respect the requirements outlined in the Panel's decision to ensure the project aligns with community and environmental expectations.

The Pahiatua project team will now focus on reviewing the consent conditions in detail and will undertake further considerations and design. After which, we will plan further updates via the e-newsletter and engagement with the direct neighbours and community.
